LANCE Metz, a mountaineer and Sandton student from Varsity College, has opted to write his operations management exam on Mount Kilimanjaro.

Metz will summit Kilimanjaro in July, during the exam period. If his climb is successful he will become the first person to write an exam on the highest mountain in Africa.

The sealed paper was handed over to Sean Disney, experienced South African mountaineer and expedition leader, at the annual Varsity College Night of the Stars event. Disney will be Metz's invigilator.

Metz said, "Sean won't have any trouble, I definitely won't be able to cheat."

Varsity College wishes him the best of luck with the climb and the exam.
